What Are Architectural Vinyl Wraps?

Architectural vinyl wraps are high-performance, self-adhesive films designed to cover and transform interior and exterior surfaces in residential, commercial, and hospitality spaces. They're widely used in renovations to give surfaces a new look without the need for replacement or demolition.

Where Are They Used?

Architectural wraps can be applied to nearly any flat or lightly curved surface:

Furniture

Desks, tables, wardrobes, drawers

Kitchens

Cabinets, worktops, splashbacks, doors

Walls & Partitions

Accent walls, elevator interiors, feature panels

Doors & Frames

Fire doors, room doors, door jambs

Commercial Spaces

Hotel lobbies, retail displays, reception desks

Why Choose Architectural Vinyl Wrap?

A Smart, Sustainable Choice for Modern Interiors

Architectural vinyl wrap is more than just a decorative finish — it's a smart solution for sustainable refurbishment. By wrapping existing surfaces instead of replacing them, you dramatically reduce waste going to landfill, making it an eco-friendly alternative to traditional renovations.
