Choosing the Right Colours for Your Kitchen

When it comes to transforming your kitchen, colour is everything. The right shade doesn't just change how a space looks—it changes how it feels. In Ireland, with our soft natural light and ever-changing seasons, choosing the right colour makes all the difference.

Consider Natural Light

Irish homes often have cooler natural light, especially in winter. Warm whites, soft greys, and rich, deep tones like forest greens or navy work beautifully to create warmth and balance. Lighter colours can open up smaller kitchens, while darker tones add drama and elegance to larger spaces.

Timeless or Trendy?

Classic neutrals like White Tie or Worsted never go out of style, making them a safe choice if you want a timeless look. But for those wanting a bold statement, deeper shades like Studio Green or Charleston Gray bring a modern, luxurious feel.

Your Style, Your Story

Think about how you use your kitchen. Family gatherings? Entertaining friends? Everyday comfort? The colour you choose should reflect your lifestyle, making your kitchen not just beautiful—but yours.

How Kitchen Respraying Works — Step by Step

01

The first two days, the doors are removed, cleaned and prepped for Spraying. These are the most visible parts of your kitchen and deserve significant attention to give it a perfect finish.

02

On the third day, we prepare the cabinet frames for spraying with careful cleaning and sanding—keeping downtime to a minimum so you can get back to normal sooner.

03

On the final day, we carefully refit all the doors. If needed, we can also install new handles—filling and adjusting for any shape or size.

We use a premium, specially formulated paint that delivers an ultra-smooth finish and makes everyday cleaning effortless.
