Why Go for a Respray?

Save Over 50%

It's true—you can save over 50% by respraying your existing uPVC window frames and doors instead of replacing them. Plus, you'll avoid extra costs like repainting, fixing plasterwork, or repairing window sills. Save money, save hassle.

Guarantee

Our service is built to last. As Ireland's approved applicators for uPVC respray, we use advanced products that don't just sit on the surface—they chemically bond with it. This ensures a durable, long-lasting finish that won't peel or flake. Guaranteed.

Any Colour

We can transform your front door and windows—inside and out—in any colour you like. Over time, white PVC can start to look worn or dated. With our uPVC respray service, you can refresh them in classic factory white or go for a modern look with popular shades like grey or cream. The choice is yours.

On Site Transformation

Unlike most window spraying companies that use paint, which tries to adhere to the surface, we utilise a special blend, an advanced molecular cross-bonding technology. This method chemically bonds to the PVC, resulting in a permanent, long-lasting finish.

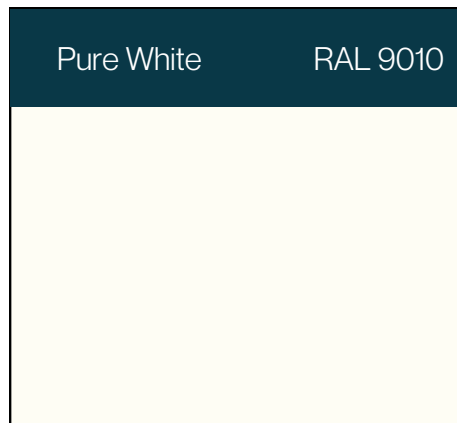

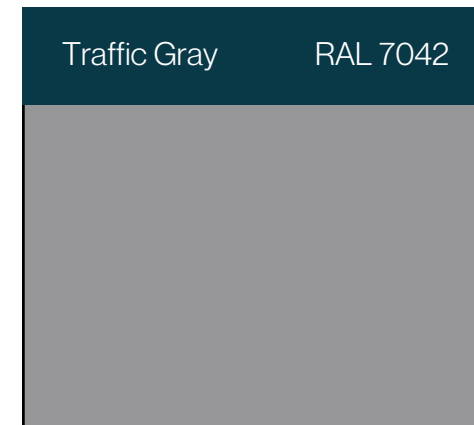

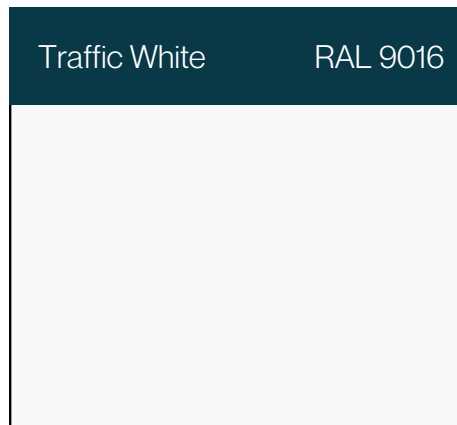

The Secret's in the Paint

Most window spraying companies use paints that merely try to adhere to the surface. At PVCRespray.com, we do it differently. We use Kolorbond, a specialised molecular cross-bonding technology that chemically fuses with the surface —ensuring a permanent, durable finish.

PVC COLOURS

Enjoy a complimentary colour-matching service with expert guidance to help you find the perfect shade. From elegant greys to warm creams, you'll have a wide range of colours to choose from. By default, the interior of your uPVC window frames will remain white to easily complement your existing décor.

Prefer a different look? You can have the inside in any colour you like, with the exterior resprayed in a softer white, ivory, or cream to avoid a harsh contrast. Choose from a variety of finishes too—silk, gloss, metallic, or matte—to suit your style.

Popular Paint Colours

Choosing colours is fun—but the application process is just as impressive.

We use a highly specialised paint that forms a physical bond with your uPVC, mixed precisely using advanced computer-controlled equipment. This creates a durable new layer that will never need repainting. And the best part? It dries within hours.

A Circular Economy Company

Our Commitment to Sustainability

At All Surface Respray, we believe in giving new life to existing materials rather than sending them to landfill. By respraying and wrapping kitchens, bathrooms, furniture, and surfaces, we reduce waste, minimise environmental impact, and extend the life of perfectly good materials. Instead of replacing cabinets, worktops, or fittings, we transform what's already there—cutting down on unnecessary manufacturing, transportation, and disposal. This sustainable approach helps conserve resources, reduces carbon emissions, and supports a more responsible, circular economy.

Less waste. Less cost. More impact.

Choose smarter. Choose circular. Choose All Surface Respray.
